American Studies

American Studies is maintaining a flexible approach to the upcoming curricular rebalance. We have already trimmed our major requirements down accordingly, and this has been a process that's been underway for a few years now. As such, we don't anticipate huge issues with students completing the new requirements, so long as our advisors insure that they understand the "intensives" component of the curriculum.

Class of...	Old or New major requirements	Courses to be offered only during transition	Changes or considerations
2020	New		We are willing to waive 0.5 of the 1.5 unit requirement of intensive work, since students will only have one year to complete it. (1.0 units will come from a revised senior thesis workshop, formerly AMST 315)
